

Long Journey

Sarah Jarosz

I have just begun
A long journey that will run
The length and width of summer time
And the cool fall air will guide me home
Yea the cool fall air will blow me home

You'll be miles away
I want to go, but I wanna stay
The music beggin' me to go
But your love can guide me home
Yea your love can guide me home

Stary nights and summer sun
I think you just might be the one
With this mountain pass keep runnin' on
And I wonder if your love and guide me home
Oh yea I wonder if your love can guide me home

I have just begun
A long journey that will run
The length and width of summer time
And the cool fall air will blow me home
Oh love can guide me home
Oh yea, I wonder if your love can guide me home
