

Will He Care

Sarah

I saw him there again today
And your eyes are miles and miles away
We talked and laughed and then a kiss
Now with a beginning sweet as this
A new love
Your heart's been touched
With a secret you can share
Will he care
Will he care
If my heart is his and my soul is bare
I'm feeling lost inside a dream
I'm sure you wonder what it all can mean
What can I do to bring him close
Give him something that is yours
And yours alone

A part of you
Your truth
The friend that you can be
Will he care
Will he care
If my heart is his and my soul is bare
Will he care
Will he see
This wild new fire that burns in me
We hope for something that's sure
When you take a chance you could get hurt
But love is for the strong
Will he care
Will he care
If my heart is his and my soul is bare
Will he care
Will he see
This wild new fire that burns in me
