

So I Wait

Sarina Paris

Contemplating everyday
Wondering if I'm wasting all of my time
You know I'm dedicating
Every thought on only you

My mommy used to tell me that
Patience is a virtue

And so I wait through the night
Cuz tomorrow you may find
That you will need me again
For some tender love and care
And so I wait hoping you,
Will discover you're in love
That you need me as much as I need you

And so I'll wait all my life
Hoping one day you will see that Love's a lock you're the key
You will come and rescue me
And so I wait hoping you,
Will discover you're in love
That you need me as much as I need you

It gets frustrating time and again
But I am not complaining cuz in the end
If I just keep believing no matter what I'll be with you

My mommy used to tell me that
Patience is a virtue

[Chorus 2x]
