

I'm Alive

Sasha

When I wake up and the sun won't shine
And I see the bedlam all around me
I turn over and get back to sleep again

If I could skip or erase this day
But it's much too young to feel sorry
So I'm trying to get on my feet
Again and again and again and again

Now and then I start talking to myself
Cause I'm ashamed did tell anybody else
Do I really need to ask for someone's help
To find out

That I'm alive
And I can't get myself outta here
I'm alive
I'm alive

Man in the mirror why you're staring at me
You have to see the same face tomorrow
Do me a favour and get out of my way
For today, just today

It's not the answer but the question that makes life
A little bearable like dating you ex-wife
Do I really need to back out and to hide
I decide

That I'm alive
And I can't get myself outta here
I'm alive
And I do what I have to pull me through my life
I'm alive
I'm alive
I'm alive

I tell you one thing,
I do need something
I pull of good luck charms to bathe in

I tell you one thing,
I do need something
I pull of good luck charms to bathe in
And I hope I'm getting out alive

When I wake up and the sun won't shine
And I see the bedlam around me
I turn over and get back to sleep again
And again and again
Again
And again
Again
And again