

On And On

Sasha

As you had it...

Everyone - has a chance to live a life of our own choosing and try to carry on, even though sometimes it feels like we are losing.

Held together by our dreams when the boredom and the meaningless
s

just keeps us all from living.

Just remember who you are, you'd never come this far without believing in yourself (and this is what you say)..

Everytime, everytime I think I know what life's romance is it's only then I find, still don't know the questions let alone the answers.

Am I here just for myself? Do I live for someone else?

Will I find just what I'm missing?

I'll) remember who I am, always try again and keep believing in myself (and this is what I'll say)..

Can we be, can we be content with what we have been living? and let us leave alone, let us leave alone the future that is hidden?
(and this is what we'll (always) say)...