Pretty Thing

Wake up, break up, step out of your dream Never gonna get my loving, life's not what it seems

Claiming she's from Hollywood but she's a southern girl Trying to make a living In a mad and crazy world

Money's all that matters in her narrow mind Once you start to talk to her She's of the simple kind

Oh you pretty thing - you're superficial Oh you pretty thing - born artificial

Wake up, break up, step out of your dream Never gonna get my loving, life's not what it seems You better wake up, break up, got to get a life Never gonna get my loving, 'cause you can't make it right

Waiting in the hotel lobby Hanging at the bar Checking out the V. I. P.'s Pretending she's a star

Girl, you're looking good to me But looks ain't everything You won't get my sympathy nor my diamond ring

Oh you pretty thing - you're superficial Oh you pretty thing - born artificial Sasha
