

Slave

Sass Jordan

Big wheels have turned
Crossing your empty, your hell
And Larry will climb
Until you crawl to your wishing well, yeah

How many years have passed
Since you fell
And you've forgotten what it used to be, well

Well, you're a slave, you're a slave
Slave until you set yourself free

No news today
'Cause you've been learning to fly
Oh, you're gonna run far away
And if you come here, you're gonna die

I knew well that man's gotta tell
That you've forgotten what it used to be, well

You're a slave, you're a slave
Slave until you set yourself free
You're a slave, you're a slave
That's why you forgot about me

Big wheels have turned
But you've been learning to fly

Slave, you're a slave
Slave until you set yourself free, yeah
You're a slave, you're a slave
That's why you forgot about me, yeah

You're a slave, you're a slave
You're a slave, you're a slave

'Cause you forget about me
