

Chosen My Side Of The Fence

Satanic Surfers

Years of living life and learning, growing and exploring and on that path we're all affected by the process by which our ident ities and realities are conditioned and manufactured and I have chosen my side

Yeah, I have chosen my side of the fence

Somewhere along the way, at some point in my life I realized, t hey must be wrong, there must be something more than this, the change would have to start with me, change would have to start with me, change would have to start with me

And I have heard

Oh, I've heard the hymns, the songs and the poetry of hope, now
I want more

(Of hope)

Yeah, I want more life

Well, I want something more than this

(Something more than this)
