

Even If Time Stood Still

Satanic Surfers

My head feels like an empty shell sometimes and sometimes overc rowded

By thoughts that make no sense

I think I need to slow down

I need to rest my head on this pillow for a couple of hours

When I get up again

I'll take one step at the time

There's just too much I want to do, so many things I'd like to do and there are things I have to do but I forget to

Even if time stood still

We'd still be running

Trying to achieve something but we don't know what [x2]

Even if time stood still [x2]
