For You

Save Ferris

I never told you how to live your life I never said you had to be something you don't want to be I never said you had to stick around forever Never said you had to stick around to be with me

I ain't going to be responsible When your life don't end up full All your talk has become bull Just what do you see Don't place the blame on me

A lack of vision when you made your decision And you wonder why your life has turned out this way You tried to use me and succeeded to confuse me But now you're feeling sorry 'cause you got played

I ain't going to be responsible When your life don't end up full All your talk has become bull Just what do you see Don't place the blame on me

Life is evil when you don't get what you want Memories can serve as ghosts They'll tease and haunt you When you spend your nights up late Wondering all about your fate Why did life end up this way For you
