

Lonely Nights

Saves the Day

I guess I wrote this song
To hear you singing along
Remember all those times
Laughing so hard we would cry

So many lonely nights
So many lonely nights
I hoped you'd call
Stare at the wall
Why do shadows crawl
All along the floor
I hoped you'd call
And that is all

I can say in this song
Time we were moving along
Remember all those days
Staring through the window pane

So many lonely nights
So many lonely nights
I hoped you'd call
Stare at the wall
Why do shadows crawl
All along the floor
I hoped you'd call
And that is all

Is it really what I wanted to say?
'Cause I've never even you before
The way that sad look'd come on your face
Is it really what you wanted to say?
And no, I never even gave it a thought
But i know we can't stay the same
Is it ever what you wanted to be?
Or am I living in the same old dream?
The one where nothing is as it seems
The one where nothing is as it seems (nothing is as it seems)
The one where nothing is as it oh...
