

Stay

Saves the Day

I'll go walking around in the dark of the day.
Right when everything's quiet, see stars as they change.
Trees sway, sag to the street drinkin' puddles of rain.
Right on the corner of your old street where we once stayed.

Seem so quiet..
Can't hear nothing now.. but..

Once there was music that swam in the air.
Crazy laughing at dishes that smash in the sink.
Howling wolf on the radio, sing you to sleep.
Right now, the sun coming up through the cracks in the trees.

I thought you'd save me..
From myself with Love...
Love...
But alone is how I stay, from the womb to the grave.

I thought you'd save me..
From myself with Love...
Love...
But alone is how I stay, from the womb to the grave.
That's how I stay, from the womb to the grave.
That's how I stay, from the womb to the grave.
