Heaven knows, the devil's told Everything on you is getting out of control I see your fist raised up and clinched I know you better than this Don't hold your breath Just get as far away as you can possibly get I know you better than you I'm takin' my time cause I got nothing to do Wait a minute something's wrong I know it won't take long Let's burn a hole into the sky And take a look into God's eyes I know it don't seem right But it won't take all night I'm not tryin' to save the planet I just don't like this noose I'm hangin' from Red faced, short breathed Yeah Im takin' it all until there's nothing left For you to prove Yeah I'm takin' my time cause I got nothing to do Wait a minute something's wrong I know it won't take long Let's burn a hole into the sky And take a look into God's eyes I know it don't seem right But it won't take all night I'm not tryin' to save the planet I just don't like this noose I'm hangin' from Why don't you make up your mind Wait a minute something's wrong I know it won't take long Let's burn a hole into the sky And take a look into God's eyes I know it don't seem right

But it won't take all night

I'm not tryin' to save the planet

I just don't like this noose I'm hangin' from
