Saving Abel

She dries her tears by a candlelight.
She seems to be here every night.
She's just that way, yeah she'll be OK.
She's alright, picking up the pieces of a broken heart.
Wonderin' if her love was ever worth it all.
Picking up the pieces of a broken heart.

She kneels down when she talks to Jesus.
She sings loud when she's tryin please us.
Roaring through the crowd, picking up the pieces in a smoky bar
Not much left, she hangs on a stage.
But she sings loud for us anyway.
She's got a thousand reasons, but only one keeps her from leavi ng.

But tonight she's picking up the pieces of a broken heart.
Pickin' out a tune with her old guitar.
Wonderin' if her love was ever worth it all.
She asks why-y-y her sun never shines?
In the dark, picking up the pieces of a broken heart.

She's got pictures of Elvis on her wall.
She says rock 'n' roll is gonna save us all.
She's just that way.
You'd think she learned her lesson all too well
But checkin' in her heartbreak hotel
She'll be alright.

She's alright, picking up the pieces of a broken heart.
Pickin' out a tune with her old guitar.
Wonderin' if her love was ever worth it all.
She asks why-y-y her sun never shines?
In the dark, picking up the pieces of a broken heart, a broken heart.

She's alright, picking up the pieces of a broken heart.
Pickin' out a tune with her old guitar.
Wonderin' if her love was ever worth it all.
She asks why-y-y her sun never shines?
In the dark, picking up the pieces of a broken heart, a broken heart.
