Saving Jane

Never have a wasted day,
You can throw them all away.
Time is just a game you play,
When you're immortal.

Beauty never has to fade,
frozen in a perfect state.
Life is just a masquerade,
When you're immortal.

Like a treasure that we hold.
People desperate for the key.
Go and trade their very souls,
To live all eternity.
But is it really all it seems?

You can't escape the memories,
They can haunt you endlessly.
Love is an illusive dream,
When you're immortal.

Like a treasure that we hold.
People desperate for the key.
Go and trade their very souls,
To live all eternity.
Ououououohoo

Forever is big mistake,
When you don't have a heart to break.
You were never mine to make.
Immortal.

Time is just a game you play
Immortal
Beauty never has to fade.
Life is just a masquerade.
