Oh well I know your built for action But you just live your life too fast If you don't slow down pretty soon Your good days will have passed So take it easy baby There ain't no need to worry The world won't end tonight So tell me what's the hurry? You should enjoy the long, long journey Savor every hill and bend You're gonna get there sooner or later So don't worry about the end Just take it easy baby There ain't no need to worry The world won't end tonight So tell me what's the hurry? You know the law of gravity Says what goes up has to come down And the faster you reach the limit The sooner you come to ground So take it easy baby There ain't no need to worry The world won't end tonight So tell me what's the hurry? You know, you shouldn't worry about the future While you are still well in your prime Just take it as you find it and you'll enjoy every time Just take it easy baby There ain't no need to worry The world won't end tonight So tell me what's the hurry? Ooh Take it easy Take your time I know you're built for action But you just live your life too fast If you don't slow down pretty soon Your good days will have passed So take it easy baby There ain't no need to worry The world won't end tonight So tell me what's the hurry? You should enjoy the long, long journey Savor every hill and bend You're gonna get there sooner or later So don't you worry about the end Just take it easy baby There ain't no need to worry The world won't end tonight So tell me what's the hurry? Don't you worry about the future While you are still well in your prime Just take it as you find it And you'll enjoy it every time Just take it easy baby There ain't no need to worry The world won't end tonight

So tell me what's the hurry?
Oh yeah
Take it easy baby
Take it easy baby
Take it easy baby
Take it easy baby.
