

Break My Heart Again

Sawyer Brown

So tell me all about it baby
How loves a conquest of the heart
How life's a motel for your dreams
It's just a runnin' start

Love's an addiction, love survives
It's so connected to our lives
I look in your eyes and all I see
Is my life go by

So break my heart again on Monday morning
Crash the car into a bridge of sighs
Tear our love apart on Thursday evening
Put it back together Friday night

I keep on falling down your street
Oh nothin' can save me now
No little voices speak to me
Lonely teardrops falling down

Love's an addiction, love survives
It's so connected to our lives
And like a lion in the dark, it waits for you

Love's an addiction, love survives
It's so connected to our lives
And like a matinee, I watch as tears go by

So break my heart again baby
Oh nothin' can save me now
Put it back together Friday night
Break my heart again baby
So break my heart again on Monday morning
