

Narcissus

Say Anything

In love with yourself you first met on the rainy steps
and in the acid rain shot through your veins the taste of your lips and your fingertips bloodied and gripped the courtship was short i do report as your former confidante the who you were leaning on it was so hard for me but not hard to see how you could fall for yourself

after all, i loved you after, after all, i loved you

i'd rather die
than let you chew upon my energy
i know you're no friend to me
after all you've done i'm free
and i can finally see
than let you ever get away with this
you are the antithesis
narcissist, this kiss could be upon my own lips

yesterday i caught myself dreaming of the day we laying the flux of fate in denial of our sick and dying love as those tiny suns die in the onyx above

(my friends never liked you now they truly hate you) so jump in a polluted great lake go fishing for snakes you have no alibi your bright and burning lie you won't convince me the devil's a reasonable guy cause he loves you after, after all, he loves you

to pull you from your sinking cage
to pull you from your sinking end)

you are my antithesis
