

I was a gypsy
Travelling light and feeling lonely all the times
'Till I met you
Felt our desire set my world on fire
A cornerstone
I'd been walking through cities on my own
I past a store, a cornerstone
I'd been walking through this life on my own
On my own

I'm still a gypsy
I travel through countries with a family by my side
It's a wonder
A man's desire setting souls on fire
I'm flesh and bone though
I'd never make it through this life on my own
I'm flesh and bone, soul, flesh and bone
Could never make it through this life on my own

And now that I've told you the truth
My world lies open

And I regret, I so regret
I regret all the things I said to you
Yeah, I regret, I so regret
I regret all the shit I put you through
Yeah, put you through

You set me free...
You set me free...
Yeaaaah

Touching every inch of my skin
Caress it with a love that never ends
Patient through the days that I hide
Always in the room right by my side
Right by my side...
