

The Miracle In July

Saybia

She's so fine
She grows in their minds

She's so fine
She grows in their minds
Into the light she conquers the world
A moment so wonderful
A diamond so precious
A beauty beyond compare

She's so fine
She grows in their minds
They look into her eyes
And feel so surprised
As she crawls under their skin
They're ready to die for
The miracle in July

She's so fine
She grows in their minds
In their minds

She speaks no words
But they know what she says
Just by looking into her eyes
It's just a God given gift
That they instantly get
Just by looking into her eyes
They don't have to wait for her no longer
They don't have to wait for her no more

They don't have to wait for her no longer
They don't have to wait for her no more

They don't have to wait
They don't have to wait
