

The Song Of The Sparrow

SayWeCanFly

Like a sparrow, I can fly
But I cannot touch the sky
Like a flower, I can grow
But I cannot grow alone

But someday I would like to know
That when I die, I will find my soul
And when I'm gone, my skin
Is cold, will I care where my body goes?
Where my body goes

Like a season, I can leave
But you cannot follow me
Like a mountain, I am tall
You can climb me until you fall

But someday I would like to know
That when I die, I will find my soul (I will find my soul)
And when I'm gone, my skin
Is cold, will I care where my body goes?
Where my body goes
(Where my body goes)

I have ripped the beating heart
Out of my chest for you
Bleeding as I fall apart
I've torn my wings in two
[Repeat]

But someday I would like to know
That when I die, I will find my soul
And when I'm gone, my skin
Is cold, will I care where my body goes?
Where my body goes
