

Half A Mind (Dreamer Forever)

Scanners

Seen so many mornings,
maybe you have seen a little more
Laughter lines that speak of time
And living in a state of war
Looks and lies and sticks and stones
Will crush my heart and break my bones
I see that I get so high I get so high that I can see

Time is a conditions
Your condition is a waste of time
Young must be ambition
Your ambition is to remain young
Music station in my head
Is one that I can never find
Half a mind to exercise and exercise my half of mind

Dreamer forever, Dreamer forever, Dreamer forever,

And the voices won't stop
I can't seem to turn them off
And there's no turning back
Yeah I guess it's just the law
Like I told you before
I just want it all to stop

Dreamer forever, Dreamer forever, Dreamer forever,

The right man could be anyone
As long as he's prepared to pay
Every generation
They must kill themselves in their own way
No my eyes are open wide
It's hard to hide the fear inside
No one wants to buy your body when you give it all away

Dreamer forever, Dreamer forever, Dreamer forever