

Somebody once said remove specifics and convert to ambiguities because definition is a myth a mirage a speculation a shaky medium made weaker by personal scales of pain someone once said give the game away; Heat seeking association short circuits eccentricities and do you ever feel the need to go to sleep just in case your brain has been trying to unload something?
body is for caring of a thought;
arms and legs for steering and arranging mind, confused, retreats, becomes distraught; forgets its dominion is unchanging
