

Who Lies in Darkness

Screaming Trees

Passing the hours outside yourself
With bitter dream now don't go down
Summers reflection it falls inside
Well into darkness

I have found you far too late
Silently it steps away
I wouldn't call you back to wait for me

Watching the storm that's drawing near
What's barely seen is always here
It leaves a question on your breath
It has no answer

I have found you far too late
Silently it steps away
I wouldn't call you back to wait for me

Passing the hours outside yourself
Bitter dream now don't go down
Dunno where or why I've got
Who lies in darkness

I have found you far too late
Silently it steps away
I wouldn't call you back to wait for me