

My Own World

Screeching Weasel

I know the sun I'm looking at
is the same sun seen by the world and that's a fact
But no one sees it quite the same
and some don't see the sun at all and that's a shame

I know the lies I'm looking at are the same lies accepted by the world as fact But I don't see things quite that way
And I refuse to hide here from another day

Don't try throwing things at me I'm I'm contradicting myself by letting know You try to tell me that I don't know what I'm doing right
When they say jump
You ask how high

I know the sun I'm looking at
is the same sun seen by the world
and that's a fact
But no one sees it quite the same
and some don't see the sun at all and that's a shame

And that's a shame (2x)
And that's a shame
