

The Girl Next Door

Screeching Weasel

White girl living in the big city
In a big apartment house
She's living with her boyfriend
Now she drives off every day for school and work
She washes dishes now and watches TV on the pull out couch
And every day's the same

White girl moved back to the suburbs
And she finally found a man who know how to take care of her
She bought the perfect little house and the lawn's well manicur ed
And she'd never missed a day of work
And every day's the same

White girl couldn't go on knowing she was just here wasting her time
She drowned in the lake last night
They found her bloated body floating
But she still walks around performing all her daily chores
She still don't know what life's about
'Cause every day's the same and she's got no one to love