

I think the sky is gonna clear
Because the hills turn green as summer nears
But a lightening storm, a lightening storm
Can even happen when the air is warm
And I can hear that nothing calling out to me
I can feel that nothing reaching out for me

It's all so new, it's all so new
But my boots seem to know what to do
I know it's strange, it's very strange
It feels like something's been per-arranged
And yet I hear that that nothing calling out to me
I can feel that nothing reaching out to me

Kasper, I love your mother
I can see her in your eyes
And I owe you what I owe her
Or it'll burn me up inside
Kasper, I'm a man now
Though sometimes I feel like a kid
At least I don't feel like nothing
The way that I once did

Looking down the avenues
But every little bend is out of view
Hold my breath and count to ten
See if I can ever take another again
I can hear that nothing calling out to me
I can feel that nothing reaching out for me

Kasper, I love your mother
I can see her in your eyes
And I owe you what I owe her
Or it'll burn me up inside
Kasper, I'm a man now
Though sometimes I feel like a kid
At least that I don't feel like nothing
The way that I once did

Kasper, I love your mother
I can see her in your eyes
And I owe you what I owe her
Or it'll burn me up inside
Kasper, I'm a man now
Though sometimes I feel like a kid
At least that I don't feel like nothing
The way that I once did

Is that a light
Is that a light
Coming through
The gray and white?

Is that a light
Is that a light
Coming through
The gray and white?

Is that a light
Is that a light
Coming through
The gray and white?
