Don't You Know You're Beautiful

Don't you remember You were happy when you were younger Things were so simple yeah 'Til the day you walked out on your mother But now you blame yourself Because you're by yourself You feel like it's not gonna to change You're crying on the floor cause you can take no more Looking for a way to escape

And all this time saying you were fine And everyone still to blame Well there you are You and your broken heart It's written all over your face

Don't you know Don't you know that you're beautiful yeah

I see you laughing But I know inside that you're crying Just tell me what happened when things went wrong We'll try to make sense of it all Please don't blame yourself Cause you're not by yourself I've been right here all along Don't have to be alone Because you've always know Wherever your heart is my home

And all this time Saying you were fine And everyone still to blame Well there you are You and your broken heart It's written all over you're face

Don't you know don't you know that you're beautiful Yeah

Can't you see what you mean to me Can't you see what you mean to Seabird
