

Half a Heart

Seal

You took a piece of me when you left
I know you thought that I would forget
The moments, the silence, the heartache
And now I have this half a heart in my hand
The other half is buried in your sad
The bitter, the beautiful, the heartbreak

Am I even alive to you or just a shadow in the light of you?

I tried to get you out my system
I lied when I said I didn't miss you
My mind is pulling apart
But it can't convince this half of my heart
And I've been trying to erase you
And I've, I've been dying to replace you
But time won't let me restart
You're the only piece that fits this half of my heart

This room, it echoes with memories of you
This world we made I guess we just outgrew
You moved on, you're long gone, I'm still holding on Sick and tired of always saying that I'm ok
Pretending when it's written on my face
I'm shattered and I'm battered, it don't matter to you

Am I even alive to you or just a shadow in the light of you?

I tried to get you out my system
I lied when I said I didn't miss you
My mind is pulling apart
But it can't convince this half of my heart
And I've been trying to erase you
And I've, I've been dying to replace you
But time won't let me restart
Now the sweetest dreams have fallen apart
You'r the only piece that fits
The only piece that fits
This half of my heart
