

Sea Of Consciousness

Seals & Crofts

In the sea of consciousness I knew you, knew you, knew you.
In the sea of consciousness you loved me, loved me, loved me.
But this world is a dark world, with a black sun. Can I
run to you?
And ah, just the thought of you makes me wander back
To the innocence you gave me, so long ago. Am I too late to go?

In the sea of consciousness you called me, called me,
called me.
In the sea of consciousness I answered, answered,
answered.
But this world is a dark world, with a black sun. Can I
run to you?
And your perfection's perfectness have the mercy in Which we all came to know you, so long ago. Am I too late
to go?
Sea of Consciousness. Am I too late to go?
