

Fly By

Secondhand Serenade

Every day I'd walk alone
Every day I'd wait for your voice on the phone
Every day I'd wish that I was not prone
To walking the streets just like another clone

Every day I wish that you would have stayed
I am not me, when I'm with you
I'm just a shell of a man
Filling up with negativity, it's time I believe
You're not the only one for me, now I see

I'm taking off, I'm flying by
I'm moving on today
Because tomorrow is standing still

Can you hear me now?
I'm way up in the clouds
I'm high above the ground,
I'm chasing the sound
Today I'm gonna try to make a change
Every day I'm gonna break out of my cage
Cause I'm tired of who I am and where I came from
They try to make me forget, now I'm done

I'm taking off, I'm flying by
I'm moving on today
Because tomorrow is standing still, is standing still
I'm moving on today
Because tomorrow is standing still

Today I'm not alone
Today there's someone else calling my phone
Today I find myself grown
Into a man you' ll never know
Now I said my last goodbye
I've said it one too many times
But you can stay here if you like
And you can watch me fly right by

I'm taking off, I'm flying by
I'm moving on today
Because tomorrow is standing still, is standing still
I'm moving on today

Because tomorrow is standing still, is standing still
I'm taking off, I'm flying by
I'm moving on today
Because tomorrow is standing still
