

Nothing Left To Say

Secondhand Serenade

Tell me why we've been living a lie for so long
Tell me why we were saying it's right when it's wrong
We go walking on the edge, bound to fall down
Everything we had is gone
Tell me why we're even holding on

When your heart goes numb and the colors turn to grey
We go round and around til there's no reason to stay
Then the screaming stops and the fire burns away
You know it's really over, when there's nothing left
There's nothing left to say

We used to be so in love, nothing in between
Now we're pulling apart, unsewing at the seam
We were dishing for too long, vowing to the storm
Baby, we're too far gone
Tell me why we're even holding on

When your heart goes numb and the colors turn to grey
We go round and around til there's no reason to stay
Then the screaming stops and the fire burns away
You know it's really over, when there's nothing left

Got you lying there, underwear
Never have I seemed to care
We both know it's time to walk away
Cause there's nothing left to say

When your heart goes numb and the colors turn to grey
We go round and around til there's no reason to stay
Then the screaming stops and the fire burns away
You know it's really over, when there's nothing left
