

So Long

Secondhand Serenade

I am leaving for a while can you tell me that we will be ok

Your friends think that i am no good,
all they ever do
is try to pull you away But i wont let them ever take you, ever take you, ever take you.

So long,
I've waited for this day
to find someone to go to,
and i just want to tell you.

That its so on, we're leaving yesterday,
and i dont think life will ever be the same, lets take this all the way.

Dead silence on the phone, Leading to a dial tone, this is not what i have planned, the endless memories without you, life passing by with out you, each day just like a grain of sand,

But i wont let them ever take you ever take you, ever take you

So long,
to find someone to go to,
and i just want
to tell you,

That its so on, we're leaving yesterday,
and i dont think life will ever be the same,
lets take this all the way.

Can you face me, can you wait for it Can you taste me, can you fight for it Will you fight for it.

So long,
i've waited for this day to find someone to go to,
and i just want to tell you,

That its so on, we're leaving yesterday,
and i dont think life will ever be the same,
lets take this all the way.
