

Sorry that I ask you now sorry but I want to know why did you expect that it's yours, yours and onl yours
sorry that I ask you now but someone has to do somehow how can you believe that I'm yours, like everything you have
I am not your own
Think about everything ou do and paint the sky forever blue but one thing you should know; that me I am not your own think about all that you possess it's not as much as it seems to be keep it all in mind and stay forever blind
