

Cry Softly (Time Is Mourning)

Secret Service

Fingers walk the edge of time
we don't know just how to taste it.
Like a blue and wailing song our time runs in
And then runs out wasted.
Rubbing sleep out of your eyes waking up to find me calling.
Let's not wait or take too long the castle you once built so strong is falling
Cry softly time is mourning longing for you at the dawning.
Baby
dreams will last forever. Tell me your heart is burning Knowing that the tide is turning baby
dreams will last forever forever.
See the night pass in my eyes feel the pain inside me crying.
Like a blue and wailing song out time runs in and then runs out dying.
Cry softly time is mourning . . .
Cry softly time is mourning . . .
Cry softly time is mourning . . .
