

So far away from the eyes of reality rise the doorways of fantasy Ride, man, in the valley of eternity
Where the lands are free from falsity

Now the time has come to hear the bards
for a new horizon beyond sea of dreams You'll see the dragons fly
and the dance of elves
in the lands of fairy lakes and falls

for a new horizon beyond sea of dreams
You'll see the dragons fly
and the dance of elves
in the lands of fairy lakes and falls

Runnin' dreams on the circle of the time, under the sky of eternal life,
Among the mountains, dressed of light,
over the scythe of pain Let your mind fly away in freedom where mankind's thought will never die

Time, Lord of Life, in this place my soul is mine Death, Bride of Time, the ideas will never fade

Now the time has come to hear the bards
for a new horizon beyond sea of dreams
You'll see the dragons fly
and the dance of elves
in the lands of fairy lakes and falls

...where mankind's thoughts, lives again
