

All these words

Secret Sphere

Like a picture of a perfect world and life
I write your name in sand
I see your face through the wind
All my memories are blowing away

Now the game is over, the curtain falls
You're walking through this line of fire
Feel the words, my fingers slowly draw your face

All these words for you to say goodbye
I will never forget your smile
All this pain is just a prison
And we can never escape

Smile without a reason why
You've broken my mirrors to heal your wounds
For a taste of eternity, for no reason why
You deny my fate

Now the game is over, the curtain falls
You're walking through this line of fire
Feel the words, my fingers slowly draw your face

All these words for you to say goodbye
I will never forget your smile
All this pain is just a prison
And we can never escape

Smile without a reason why
Just take my hand and trust me again

All these words for you to say goodbye
I will never forget your smile
All this pain is just a prison
And we can never escape
