

Bring on

Secret Sphere

There are times in which you can't see the meaning
There are lives in which you won't find the love
There are nights in which you don't ever dream to see light aga in
...it's hard to believe again

We can't say we always believe, but still we hold on
And after thousand tears we know again
You can't say we always believe in love
But still we hold on, still we try again

Bring on, come on and bring on
After all the tears you cried you still can always
Bring on, come on and bring on
Everywhere there is a smile you still can bring it on

There are fears, you say time to love again
There are fears that seem - never to do it again
There are stars, you see, fallin' on the way
There's injustice, always, all along the way

We can't say we always believe, but still we hold on
And after thousand tears we know again
You can't say we always believe in love
But still we hold on, still we try again

Bring on, come on and bring on
After all the tears you cried you still can always
Bring on, come on and bring on
Everywhere there is a smile you still can bring it on

Sometimes it's so long to wait
But still we hold on
And after all we find ourselves
Waking up with the hands on the guitar
And the head, and the heart, and play

There are time without meaning
There are lives in which you won't find the love
There are night in which you don't ever dream to see the light again

Bring on, come on and bring on
After all the tears you cried you still can always
Bring on, come on and bring on
Everywhere there is a smile you still can bring it on
