

Innocence

Seether

I broke a promise now so I'm less of a man I'll try to remember how so try, forget if you can

Now wash the sheets and tear my face right down of all the walls
Now wash the sheets and tear my face right down of all the walls
Now wash the sheets and tear my face right down of all the walls
Now wash the sheets and tear my face..

Come on and call on me, I want to let you down
Come on and call on me, I want to see you right now
I never wanted to bleed, you never wanted your hand
Come on and call on me, dear

I know that decadence defiles what I am
I know that innocence decides what I am

I wanna feel this pain again before I fade away
I wanna feel this pain again before I fade away
I wanna feel this pain again before I fade away
I wanna feel this pain again..

Come on and call on me, I want to let you down
Come on and call on me, I want to see you right now
I never wanted to bleed you
Never wanted your hand
Come on and call on me, dear

And now I understand
That suffering's every where There's so much left to learn

Come on and call on me, I want to let you down
Come on and call on me, I want to see you right now
I never wanted to bleed
You never wanted your hand
Come on and call on me, I want to let you down

Come on and call on me, I want to let you down
Come on and call on me, I want to let you down
Come on and call on me, I want to let you down
Come on and call one me, dear

And now I understand
There's not much left for me here
I guess it's over now

There's so much left to pay
There's so much left to pay
