

See You at the Bottom

Seether

When in the fall all the leaves begin to sour
As helpless slaves to a mother who's a whore
So you reveal all your naked numb compliance
A faceless name undeserving of a soul.

Hey, can you hear me now?
I know I'm nothing profound.
Say, can you help me out?
But my intentions were good.
Hey, can you help me down?
What's lost is better unfound.

Say, can you wait me out?
Cause I will see you at the bottom.
See you at the bottom.

If you stay I will feed you to the fire
And with a smile I will rake you on the coals
I can't believe I was bested by a liar
Cause I believe I was meant for so much more.

Hey, can you hear me now?
I know I'm nothing profound.
Say, can you help me out?
But my intentions were good.
Hey, can you help me down?
What's lost is better unfound.

Say, can you wait me out?
Cause I will see you at the bottom.

So
Searching for
God! God! God! God!

Hey, can you hear me now?
I know I'm nothing profound.
Say, can you help me out?
But my intentions were good.
Hey, can you help me down?
What's lost is better unfound.

Say, can you wake me out?
Cause I will see you at the bottom.
See you at the bottom.

I'll see you at the bottom
(Hey, can you hear me now?)
I'll see you at the bottom
(Say, can you help me out?)
