Weak

No more love to purchase I've invested in myself You know nothing about me Keep opinions to yourself No more complications Everything's just swell No more obligations There's nothing more to tell

I just want to be alone

When I get weak or I'm tired and afraid When I sleep, all my dreams turn out the same When I bleed, I relieve you of your pain Can't believe you won't let me do the same

Please give me a reason So I can shut you out Though your heart is bleeding You left me with no doubt Give me segregation Give me back my health Take your observations And turn them on yourself

I just want to be alone

When I get weak or I'm tired and afraid When I sleep, all my dreams turn out the same When I bleed, I relieve you of your pain I can't believe you won't let me go Let me live my life alone

Let me live my life alone Let me live my life alone

When I'm running scared That's when I need to know That you let me go

When I get weak or I'm tired and afraid When I sleep, all my dreams turn out the same When I bleed, I relieve you of your pain I can't believe you won't let me go Let me live my life alone

Let me live my life alone Let me live my life alone Seether
