

Break

Selah Sue

How long will it take
Before I make the big mistake?
And how long will it take
Before my eyes speak out the truth?

How hard will I break
When all the rules no longer stand
And thoughts are running out of end
How hard will I fall
When I can't deal with this at all
It's getting darker, break my walls
But no one gets my point at all
At all
At all
At all
At all

And how long will it take
Before the mask falls off my face?
And how long will it take
Before my eyes speak out the truth?

How hard will I break
When all the rules no longer stand
And thoughts are running out of end
How hard will I fall
When I can't deal with this at all
It's getting darker, break my walls
But no one gets my point at all
At all
At all
