

The More That I

Selah Sue

The more that I shut my eyes when they go too far,
I just feel I'm changing.
They hid your disguise, 'cause my heart it just understands
That they're being caged in.

They hid your disguise, you try to fight this,
It's all so wrong, 'cause they've never been in love.

I'm trying to overcome my conclusions,
'cause I was way too young
And we worry, you worry, you worry.

Feed me years of knowledge, come to me
Hold on, years of paling, it is straight on.

The more that I come to love them when they get smalled out,
I just feel I'm changing.
Showing their empty hands in my hand, they just understand that They're being caged in.
I'm trying to overcome my conclusions, 'cause I was way too young,
And you worry, you worry, you worry.

Feed me years of knowledge, come to me
Hold on, years of paling, it is straight on.

Feed me years of knowledge, come to me
Hold on, years of paling, it is straight on.
