

Back To Reason

Sengir

I was lost in confusion Trust was nowhere to be found and the rumours that you spread were viciously unkind

Thank God for Reason
She came back just right on time to purify this life we are living

Don't try to pull me over the edges of my mind
Don't try to hurt me because I still feel inside Don't make me cry for real you let the world came in between
Can we go back to reason?

Do your dreams keep running away?
Like they always did and always will

I cherish the moments of a game that has started long ago This is a journey and we all have to carry our burden in the end

Don't try to pull me over the edges of my mind
Don't try to hurt me because I still feel inside
Don't make me cry for real
you let the world came in between
Can we go back to reason?
Can we go back to reason?
