

Close To The Bone

Sengir

I'm tired of feeling so alone
I'm tired of fighting battles on my own It's plain to see that I am fed up with your stupid fantasies so tell me how did you survive the world in my eyes

Close to the bone... you play the game
Close to the bone... until you find a way
Close to the bone... in every single way
Close to the bone

Now the dust has settled and your lies became unleashed...
I'll be here to remind you of terrible break of a looming dawn you have to face on your own

Close to the bone... you play the game
Close to the bone... until you find a way
Close to the bone... you're not here to stay
Close to the bone
until there is nothing left to say

There is nothing left to say
