Steven

Goodbye Goodbye Goodbye November 10th, a cold dark night You could feel that something wasn't right That night many hearts did cry When we learned we had to say goodbye All embraced under one common song The body is dead but life lives on All embraced under one common song The body is dead but life lives on Goodbye, Steven Goodbye, you friend You were so young You were so young Goodbye, Steven Goodbye, you friend You were so young The cars lined the streets As it was coming to an end The sun shined so brightly The day we buried our friend All embraced under one common song The body is dead but life lives on All embraced under one common song The body is dead but life lives on Goodbye, Steven Goodbye, you friend You were so young You were so young Goodbye, Steven Goodbye, you friend You were so young You were so young Losing in the fall, lost innocence came down An 18 year old boy was buried in the ground A family's broken hearts, a friend's streaming tears The light lost in death, the living's growing fears Of eternal darkness or is it spiritual light To come with terms with death on the darkest night A brother lost a brother, a friend lost a friend

A brother lost a brother, a friend lost a friend A mother lost a son but Steven's soul will never end

A mother lost a son but Steven's soul will never end

A brother lost a brother, a friend lost a friend

Senses Fail

A mother lost a son but Steven's soul will never end

A brother lost a brother, a friend lost a friend A mother lost a son but Steven's soul will never end

November 10th, a cold dark night You could feel that something wasn't right That night many hearts did cry When we learned we had to say goodbye