Seraphim

An affliction and coldest breathing
Reflecting this world ungratefully, fighting mistiness
Marching hard on the time of despair in the dark suffocating night

Hopeless ingratitude, emerging desire, world shaking deeply Degraded unveiled sadness, a cry of pain in endless illusion

The soaring spirit fly away, leaving daybreak across an abyss of suffering
Hear the echo of bell's toll from the firmament, floating in the air

Intention free! a miserable soul, betray your mind!

In my dream, there's a weighty thinking
Breeze of dark night, wipe crying eyes deep in my heart
The devil's wriggle and the sin of desire, dripping down to blood of the sea

Fascinated ecstasy, emotional sunlight's shining the backfire
No more guilty hypocrite, the floating fire released from eternity

Lost in thought in wonderland, insouciant farewell to fading dreamland
Look up to the sky within a perfect tenderness, a passionate crime!
