Bleeding Tree

Serenity

My sanctuary's gone forever I'm left in here, victimized and blind

No leading fire, no morning star A vast blackness is swallowing my day

Deep inside the woods of sadness Behind the hills of pain Just beneath the bleeding tree Another place has been reserved for me

Roots that kill my breath like chains The darkness is invincible I can't remember anything before This hellish place will be my grave