

Heavenly Mission

Serenity

They could not control us and started to fear us so our story had to end ...

Almost two hundred years have passed and it seems that I will be the last Last of the masters, faithful and bold who's now tired and old

The templar cross is growing pale (growing pale) We never thought our plans would fail (never fail)

A sacred ambition, a heavenly mission: liberate the Holy Land Our power grew stronger, they tarry no longer so our story has to end

Maybe we somehow lost our ways, and have fallen from God's grace But He'll remember our noble aims when we'll die by the flames

The templar cross is growing pale (growing pale) We never thought our plans would fail (never fail)

A sacred ambition, a heavenly mission: liberate the Holy Land Our power grew stronger, they tarry no longer so our story has to end

Oh Jesus forgive me, they made me lie Be with me, watch over me when I die

The templar cross is growing pale (growing pale) We never thought our plans would fail (never fail)
