

When Moon and Sun Unite

Serenity

Romantic lakes in my dreams, shadows of the deep
A night of thunder, the moonlight asleep
Mountains of doom are taking my disposal life
They reveal the place a teardrop cries

The voyage to eternity, straight to my star
Sends my power and my mind away so far
On golden wings of ancient times I ride this day
'Leave me, nocturnal fear' is what I pray

When the night falls dark horizons divide the light
Just the day, the day away
When moon and sun unite
Spirits call, minutes grow to eternal night
Eyes are drawn to the shadow core
Then moon and sun unite

Take my hand and follow me to my dreams
Leave the gods of darkness, their unholy screams
My entity finds strength and life in your eyes
My hopes will be reborn when this dream dies...
